¹ - LocalEdge print quantities and area of distribution are projections based on prior experience and ongoing market analysis and reflect the estimated number of directories necessary to accomplish general delivery in the distribution area. The actual number and type of directories printed and delivered, and the area of distribution, may vary due to Publisher's ongoing assessment of business and market conditions. Total printed directories includes directories for Initial Distribution and may include additional inventory to supply additional secondary and supplemental distributions throughout the life of the directory. It is possible that not all directories printed will be distributed.
